It is understood that Gen. Bennett H. ## TRAPPING A LAWYER.

In some cases counsel receive answers to questions that they had no business to put, which, if not quite to their liking, are what they justly deserve. The following story of George Clarke, a celebrated negro minstrel, is a case in point. On one occasion, when being examined as a witness, he was severely interrogated by a lawyer.

"You are in the minstrel business, I believe?" inquired the lawyer.

"Yes, sir," was the reply.
 "Is not that rather a low calling?"
 "I don't know but what it is, sir," replied the minstrel, "but it is so much better than my father's that I am rather proud of it."

The lawyer fell into the trap.

"What was your father's calling?" he inquired.
 "He was a lawyer," replied Clarke, in a tone that sent the whole court into a roar of laughter as the discomfited lawyer sat down.—Weekly Telegraph.

IN BOSTON.

"Oh, Mrs. Hubb!" exclaimed Mrs. Goodthing to the young Boston matron. "I remembered it was little Wadsworth's birthday, so brought him one of those old-fashioned children's banks, the kind we used to drop the coins down the chimney of a little red tin house, with green blinds painted on it, you remember?"

"So very kind of you," replied Mrs. Hubb, frigidly. "You will find Wadsworth in his toy office, playing with his new cash register."—Woman's Home Companion.
